Message from the President

Prof. Jianan Li
President of ISPRM

"Things do not happen. Things are made to happen" (John F. Kennedy)

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

Over 2,000 years ago, the Chinese philosopher, Lao Tzu, noted, "The supreme good is like water, which benefits all of creation without trying to compete with it." Water is pliant, taking all kinds of shapes and nourishing all things without them realizing it. ISPRM should learn from the nature of the water.

It has taken a year to strengthen the new ISPRM leadership and to work closely and efficiently with enthusiasm through regular teamwork, e-communication and reformed organization...

Message from the Central Office

Musculoskeletal Ultrasound in PRM – Digital Edition free for ISPRM Members!

ISPRM is happy to offer each individual member and combined individual member from National Societies a free download of the Musculoskeletal Ultrasound in PRM. The digital edition is available to download for each member; a personal 16 digit code is required.

National Society Members:

If you are a National Society member, you must obtain your code via your society. The National Society can request unique codes from the Central Office via one of the following options:

- a) scratch-off cards for distribution during meetings
- b) a list of codes via email that can be spread to members via email
- c) a mailshot sent on National Societies' behalf to your individual members with the unique code inserted into the mail

Individuals:

If you are an individual member and not affiliated with a national Society, please request a code by emailing isprmoffice@kenes.com.

For any question about your membership, please contact isprmmembership@kenes.com

National Societies contact information update

In order to improve communication with ISPRM National Societies, the ISPRM Central Office kindly asks each official Representative of ISPRM National Societies to check their respective contact details being displayed on <http://www.isprm.org/discover/assembly-of-delegates>. Should there be any inaccuracy, please contact us at isprmoffice@kenes.com.
